Logging In

The first page presented to you when reaching COSMOS, is the login screen. There are three options available to you:

1. Login with the default username and password for COSMOS, provided to you by the Living Lab team;
2. Login with details provided by an administrator of COSMOS; or
3. Create an account.

Once succussfully authenticated, you will be directed to the Dashboard.

> The ability to 'Create an account' is an adminstrative function controlled within the COSMOS administration feature. Additionally, this function only becomes operational when both the 'Enable new user self-registration' and 'Email' options are enabled in 'Settings'.

Username or email address